Great British Newspaper Asks England to Take Proper View of America's Position.

LONDON, Aug. L.-In an editorial n "America and the Blacklist," the lanchester Guardian says that Engshmen should try to understand the point of view of the American Govrnment in protesting against the ex-

The editorial explains that "American objection to these proceedings is two-fold: First, that they do serious injury to American trade; and, second, that they embody a doctrine in the hotel. international law which is at once new and pernicious.

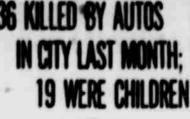

"It is the common belief that the first of these grounds—damage to material interests—is the real driving force behind the present protest and similar protests which preceded it. Doubtiess the individual person or firm willch suffers is concerned parts. The exclusively for its loss of money, but we do serious injustice to the American Government if we imagine it is the demands of the men, which into concerned for something higher."

The editorial then explains that the and a half for overtime.

Blouses For Young Girls

Mothers who have growing daughters know that it has been almost impossible to get blouses for young girls. Shops generally tell them that girls of sixteen require size 36 and so on. But this is not true. this is not true!

A girl of sixteen should have a blouse that has been designed for a girl of sixteen and not one that has been made for a matured woman.

Wanamaker blouses for young girls have been made over our own specifications—every measurement is correct in each of the sizes—14, 15 and 18 years.

Styles are truly girlish and are in accord with the latest dictates of Fashion. To be exact, there are 49 models for your selection-

Less than Wholesale Cost for These Women's NEW Low Shoes at $2.90

"Wholesale Cost" here means the price which we have had to pay for similar shoes for our regular stocks this season—

The manufacturer thought so well of these shoes—their smart styles and their goodness in every respect—that he made them up in thousand pair lots. Frequent re-orders assured him of his good judgment. However, cancellations of some orders were recently received because they were finished too late for out-of-town delivery. That is why these particular shoes are here at an almost unbelievably low price.
